THE FIRST WORLD CONGRESS FOR PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

MAKING VALUES VISIBLE

Russia

Russia is the largest country in the world. Located in the northern hemisphere, it takes up a considerable part of Eurasia. It borders on eighteen countries, among them the USA and Japan that have sea borders with Russia. The country stretches 10,000 km west to east and about 4,000 km north to south. It has 11 time zones. Its total area is about 17 million km<sup>2</sup>.

With people of about 160 nationalities living in it, Russia is one of the most multicultural countries in the world.

The Sverdlovsk Region

The Sverdlovsk Region covers a vast area in the Ural Mountains, a mountain range in the heart of Russia separating Europe from Asia where you can have a unique opportunity to get from one continent to another in just one step.

The region has the population of 4.3 million people.

The Sverdlovsk Region is the largest region in the Urals. It spans across the middle and northern parts of the Ural Mountains, and the western part of the West Siberian plain. Its area is as vast as that of Belgium, Denmark, Switzerland, and the Netherlands added up.

Humans have lived here since ancient times. Explorers found numerous early humans' settlements here. An ancient idol known as the Idol of Shigir was unearthed here in 1890. Its age is 11,000 years.

You can find almost the entire periodic table in the depths of the Ural Mountains – more than 2,000 kinds of minerals and rocks. Fairy-tales say that ancient gods and spirits guard the treasures of the Land of Precious Stones, the most influential of them being the Queen of the Copper Mountain.

Yekaterinburg

Cities are like people. Each one has its own unique appearance and personality. Yekaterinburg has the population of 1.5 million people.

Built in 1723 on the banks of the river Iset as a factory-fortress, Yekaterinburg quickly turned from a provincial town into a powerful industrial and trading hub.

The city is a curious mix of architectural styles, sometimes contradicting each other, and sometimes wonderfully balanced. This is where east meets west and the past is just round the corner from the future. The city's skyline tells a story that reflects the brightest and the darkest pages in Russia's history. Yekaterinburg has more than 30 museums and art galleries, 32 universities, 24 theaters, its own movie studio, several concert halls, and about a dozen of shopping malls. We invite you to see Yekaterinburg with your own eyes and to feel its vibrant atmosphere.

Welcome to the Urals!

Welcome to Yekaterinburg!

The First World Congress for Persons with Disabilities

On 7–10 September 2017, Yekaterinburg, one of the largest Russian cities, will host the First World Congress for Persons with Disabilities.

The Congress

- is a civil society initiative supported by the government, citizens and the business community.
- aims to change society's attitudes towards people with disabilities and therefore to improve the quality of their lives.
- is a means to establish communication between the society and people with disabilities (in the urban environment, at workplaces, and during leisure and recreation).
- draws public attention to the needs of people with disabilities and their potential contribution to society's development (through working in the service industry, performing time-consuming manual work, using "compensatory abilities", etc.).

Objectives

1. To make the principles and values of the UN Convention on the rights of persons with disabilities visible and effective.
2. To promote the role of persons with disabilities in creating an inclusive society.
3. To awaken awareness of disability as a source of development of qualities in human encounters and social life.
4. To highlight the inherent dignity of persons with disabilities in different media, including artistic activity and creative practice.

Inclusive City

Inclusive City is a unique interactive project taking place in the Mayakovsky Park where the Congress's delegates, together with the residents and guests of the Ural's capital, will present highlights of the national culture, dance and music shows and workshops, and have an opportunity to socialize with each other.

An exhibition of Russia's national farmsteads will be put on for the guests, while the fair will showcase products made by the Congress's delegations from different countries.

You are welcome to take a ride on the "train of friendship" along an interactive railroad, as well as take part in planting the Alley of the First World Congress for Persons with Disabilities.

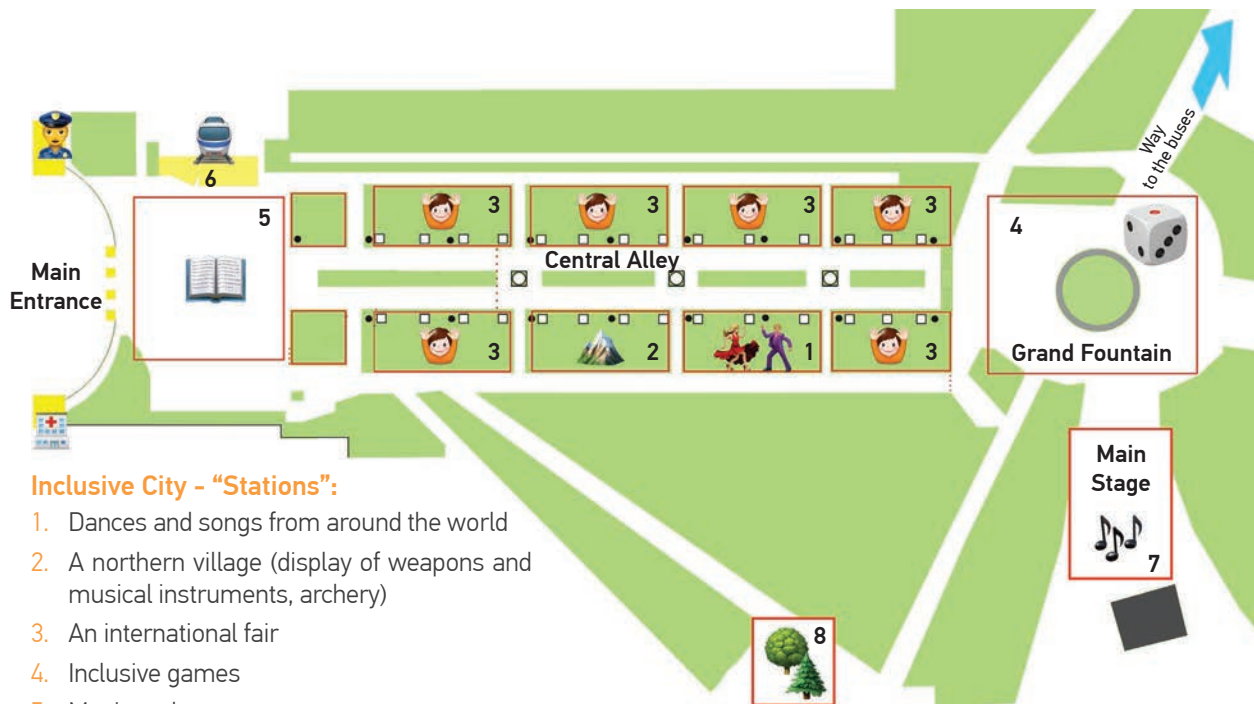

Entrance is completely free. The organizers expect over 1,500 guests to visit the venue.

Inclusive Ball

The international inclusive ball will be an excellent finale of the Congress. The ball will be held in “Kosmos” Concert Hall, Yekaterinburg, at 6.00 p.m. on September 10, 2017.

In this case, this will be more than just beautifully dressed people in a beautiful setting. A ball is an opportunity. An opportunity to celebrate and socialize with friends for everyone, and an opportunity to feel happy. Music and dancing will only serve as the means to achieve this.

We will try to make sure that no one is left behind and everyone joins in the fun. Even if you have never danced, this won't prevent you from enjoying yourselves.
